We have strong gains of 100% to 200% on most of these options in a short time frame. The move up in oil and gold has been swift and it looks like these markets are rolling over. I believe the Ukraine issue could resolve one way or another in the next 2 to 10 weeks. On this news there could be a significant pull back in gold and oil. Maybe we might miss out on another 5% to 15% gains in the gold and oil stocks, but better buying opportunities might lie ahead.
